

MINI PROJECT EVALUATION

Semester: 2019/2020-2

TITLE : CGPA CALCULATOR

GROUP : H20

No.	Name	Matric No.	Github Username
1.	HELMY HANYFF BIN HAIRUDIN RUZAILI	191502835	Helmy88
2.	LUQMAN HAKIM BIN ABDUL MALEK	191503297	Luqmansmksy
3.	MOHAMMAD HAMIZAN BIN JOHARI	191502838	Hamizann99
4.

PROJECT OUTCOME

*Notes: Zero marks will be given if the work does not meet the minimum requirement as stated in the rubric.
NO	CRITERIA	EXEMPLARY (4)	PROFICIENT (3)	ACCEPTABLE (2)	UNDER PAR (1)	WEIGHT	SCORE
1	Project Completion	Project functions perfectly as designed to serve its specific purpose. No bugs are present in the demonstration of program. Program is able to run as intended. Shows high understanding of the problem and adequate depiction of system requirement.	Project functions correctly to fit its purpose. Some runtime bugs are present but does not affect overall system performance. Adequate depiction of system requirement with some correction needed.	Project has bugs present that prevent it from completing its assigned task or purpose. Program can function minimally. Acceptable understanding of system with more than half of the system requirement correctly depicted.	Project is incomplete and does not function. Minimal understanding and depiction of system requirement needs a lot of improvement.	x2	(max 8)
2	Quality of Output	Amazingly good output, well beyond expectation.	Generally work was of high quality, only occasional errors.	Work often had errors and omissions which needed to be fixed and/or was "off target" with the project.	Work was of poor quality, and supposedly needed to be redone.	x2	(max 8)
3	User-friendliness	The application can be handled intuitively without much guide needed.	Application can be handled rather intuitively with some guide needed.	The application can be handled quite comfortably but need some time to be get familiarized with.	The application lacks suitable labels and needs to have a lot of guidance for using it.	x1	(max 4)
4	Creativity	Excellent level of creativity throughout design process and implementation. Unique, and well planned.	Adequate level of creativity throughout design process and implementation.	Show some level of creativity throughout design process and implementation.	Minimal display of creativity shown throughout design process and implementation.	x1	(max 4)
5	Technical Proficiency	Program uses outstanding solution that is easy to understand and maintain. Strategic use of comments throughout the code to aid in troubleshooting. Most of the variables and objects naming are according to convention. Code is excellently organized throughout the project.	Program uses appropriate solution that is somewhat easy to understand. Use comments in some part of the codes to explain. Some of the variables and objects naming are according to convention. Code is organized and readable.	Program uses solution that is difficult to follow-through but able to fit its purpose. Use comments in some part of the codes. Only certain variables are named according to convention. Code is not organized but readable.	Program use solution that is not appropriate to its purpose. Comments is not used in the project. None of the variables are named according to convention. Code is messy and hard to read.	x2	(max 8)
6	Documentation	Report is present and exhibit high quality of documentation with no grammatical or spelling errors.	Report is available with all required elements produced correctly as expected.	Report is available, but some required elements are missing. Adequate quality of report.	Report submitted but with very poor-quality documentation. A lot of requirements are missing.	x1	(max 4)
					SCORE	/40
					TOTAL SCORE: $\frac{\quad}{40} \times 15 \% =$

PRESENTATION & TEAMWORK

*Notes: Zero marks will be given if the work does not meet the minimum requirement as stated in the rubric.
NO	CRITERIA	EXEMPLARY (4)	PROFICIENT (3)	ACCEPTABLE (2)	UNDER PAR (1)	WEIGHT	SCORE
1	Presentation skills	Excellent organization and preparation. Confident and relaxed in the whole presentation. Engaging to audience.	Good organization and preparation. Confident in most parts of the presentation. Attractive to audience.	Basic organization and preparation. Confident in only some parts of the presentation.	Bare organization and preparation. Lack of confidence and familiarity in some parts of the presentation.	x1	(max 8) 1) 2) 3) 4)
2	Fluency & Composure Pronunciation, articulation is smooth; lack of fillers. Expressive, Comfortable, Enhances Message.	Coherence of presentation strongly supported by correct pronunciation, confident enunciation and articulation. Pauses are purposeful and enhance fluency of speech. Virtually no vocalized fillers are noticeable. Gestures, facial expressions and posture reinforce and enhance the verbal message.	Careful pronunciation supports coherence of presentation. Enunciation and articulation of words are mostly clear. The pauses were momentary and did not interrupt fluency of speech. Vocalized fillers are minimal and do not distract the audience. Movement and gestures clarify key points. Facial expressions and posture seem comfortable.	Pronunciation is mostly correct yet enunciation and articulation are still tentative. Speaker recovers from awkward pauses and proceeds. Vocalized fillers are noticeable but not excessive. Gesture, facial expressions and posture reflects speaker's discomfort that occasionally interferes with the message.	Incoherent presentation due to many factors that undermine fluency including poor pronunciation. Long pauses interrupt flow of speech. Excessive use of vocalized fillers distracts the audience. Gestures, facial expressions and posture are stiff or distracting.	x1	(max 4) 1) 2) 3) 4)
3	Questions and Answers	Handle difficult questions with ease and confidence. Illustrative explanation.	Answer most questions correctly and concisely.	Answer most questions correctly. Need clarification sometimes.	Answer at least one questions correctly. Need clarification.	x1	(max 4) 1) 2) 3) 4)
4	Teamwork	Routinely provides useful ideas when participating in the group project. A leader who contributes a lot of effort.	Usually provides useful ideas and solutions when participating in the group project. A strong group member who tries hard!	Sometimes provides useful ideas when participating in the group project. A satisfactory group member who does what is required.	Rarely provides useful ideas when participating in the group project. Seems refuse to participate.	x2	(max 8) 1) 2) 3) 4)
					SCORE	/24
					TOTAL SCORE: $\frac{\quad}{24} \times 10 \% =$		1) 2) 3) 4)

TOTAL MARKS (/25%)

1)
2)
3)
4)